A Prosperous New Year

Fred Metcalf Sends Planning Commission Defense

Fred C. Metcalf, a resident of Santa Cruz avenue and a member of the City Planning Commission sends in the following communication for publication, which is self explanatory:

Editor Menlo Park Recorder:

In common with all right-thinking persons, I usually disregard anonymous letters and heartily despise their writers, but the letter signed "A Reader," printed in your last issue is so vicious and misleading in its intent that I feel I would be remis in my duty toward the members of the Planning Commission who have worked so earnestly, conscienciously and harmoniously for the improvement of Menlo Park, if tha letter were allowed to pass unanswered.

The men and women who compose the Planning Commission have a stand ing in the community that is the highest, and their integrity is unquestioned, so it is an inexcusable insult for this person to state that the City was zoned for the personal advantage of any individual.

As a matter of fact, every statement in this anonymous article is gross misrepresentation. Nothing was developed at the public hearing except that three of the speakers wanted the business district restricted to a few blocks around Santa Cruz and the Highway, and also that they did not like the Planning Commision.

So far the legality of the Zoning Or. dinance, or the application of the Atherton decision to this case are concerned, this person would do well to consult an attorney who knows something of California Law.

The Zoning Ordinance submitted to the City Council by the Planning Commission has nothing in it that is new or untried. Every section is taken from Zoning Ordinances of other California Cities. Menlo Park, however, has grown up without direction or restriction, and has already established many conditions hat are different and difficult, and great care has been exercised to adapt these regulations to fit the peculiar situation without working any hardship upon any reasonable property owner.

Business has been established in practically every portion of the suggesed business district, and we have had no complaints from any of the property owners affected. We have carefully aviided forcing business zoning upon any part of the City where any considerable number of owners object, but on the other hand we oppose restricting the business district so that any particular owner or group of property owners may profit from such monopoly.

Before starting our work we considered it good business to engage an expert on Ciity Planning so that could profit by what other cities had done and probably avoid many of the costly mistakes they had made. We engaged Mr. Hayler, who is an expert of recognized ability and standing, and who has for years been regularly employed in such work. For his services the City Council paid $100, the balance being paid by members of the Planning Commission and other interested citizens. The criticism of Mr. Hayler and his work by "A Reader" isc evidence of either a cheap brand of wit, or proof of ignorance of the legal value of careful preparation for Zoning, etc.

Before closing I feel that I should say that your Planning Commission be lieves absolutely in this most modern systef of developing a City, and that they stand ready to proceed at once in compiling the necessary information required in working out the many problems that are awaiting solution. And further, to refute and clarify many misleading statements that have been made, may I state that a Planning Commission is an investigating and advisory Body, and has no authority except that granted to it by the City Council. It can only recommend to the Council, and the Council has, in all matters and at all times, FULL AUTHORITY AND THE FINAL WORD.

But please note that the Planning Commission method requires thorough investigation, adequate advertising, and many public meetings, so that the property owner and business man is assured of the opportunity for presenting his arguments and has the right to protect his interests.

Planning Commisions are established and governed by State laws, and thousands of brainy and competent men have been working for years on the development and safe-guarding of their functions. Practically every city on the Peninsula has a Planning Commission, and wherever you find the City Planning system working, you will find a progressive, growing City, with property values well established and increasing.

Menlo Park is fortunate in the personnel of its Planning Commission, as they are all property owners, with but one exception, and they are all interested and willing to take the time necessary for the performance of their work. Every member of the Commission has attended practically every meeting, and their final decisions have been unanimous. There are nine members, including te Officials, and each member has a voice and vote in all matters. Six citizens are appointed, and the "Mayor", the City Attorney and the City Engineer are all members. On your Commission the following have served,JW. H. Weeden, Chairman of the Board of City Trustees; George H. Whitworth, City Attorney; George H. Kneese, City Engineer (also County Surveyor and City Engineer of several other Peninsula Cities); Mrs. Jay T Cooper, ajjointed for the one year term, John H. Sullivan, two years, Frank Johnson, three years, Miss Susan Gale, four years, Dennis O'Keefe, five years, and for the six year term, the writer,

FRED C. METCALF,
Chairman.

Dec. 27, 1928.

Dear Mr. Edior:

Since wriing the above letter, I have learned of the action of Blake, Walker and Ellis in summarily removing three members of the Planning Commission on the excuse that they have been active in the matter of the Recall, and that there was a lack of harmony.

For the information of the public, I desire to state that the inharmony came from Walker and Blake, and was evident long before there was any talk of a Re-call. On October 2nd Walker assaulted the Planning Commission in open meeting, and insulted its members in several meetings thereafter, and is reported to have told several persons that he would "get Metcalf." Blake stated to me personally that the Zoning Ordinance would be "laid on the table from time to time, and might never be taken up." He also advised me to reign and "not stick around until a brick house fell upon me." I have been unable to learn of any definite reason for their antagonism except such vague statements as "for the good of the cause" or "the handwriting on the wall."

Which "cause" or whose "wall" I have never been able to ascertain, but I am sure of one thing, and that is that their antagonism to me was evident long before the Re-call started. and I fear that there is ome one or something baeg of it all that is deeper and darker than mere personal differences or dislikes.

FRED C. METCALF.

City Council Holds Stormy Session

Menlo Park's City Council ran true to form last Wednesday night when it staged an exciting session and at the same time surprised the natives by its actions.

Councilman Blake came forth with a demand that certain of the members of the City Planning Commission be removed from office, and that the building inspector also be removed. It appears that this action was directly tracable to the recall petition that was filed with the board some time back.

The three members of the City Planning Commission to be removed were: Fred C. Metcalf, chairman; Mrs. Susie Gale and Mrs. Jay T. Cooper. Those chosen to replace these members of the Commission are: Mark A. McCann, wealthy and well known real estate man of San Francisco and Menlo Park, F. L. W. MacDonald, an importer, and F. F. Beckman. J. J. Harcom, a local builder and former city councilman, was named to succeed Building Inspect or Charles Smih.

Reasoms for the removal of the members of the commission seem to be that they were very active in the circulation of the recall petition seek ing to recall Councimen Blake and Walker.

Final action on the recall petition has been laid over for two weeks. The petition presented to the board contained 232 names asking for the recall of Blake and Walker. During the wordy storm that followed it developed that about 100 of the signers desired to have their names removed from the petition on the ground that the facts had been misrepresented to them.

Councilmen Blake and Walker plan to secure the advice of an attorney as to the legality of the move.

During the stormy session that followed Councilmen H. W. Weeden and Dale urged the acceptance of the petition, while Mayor J. C. Ellis and Councilmen Walker and Blake voted to lay the matter over until the next meeting, two weeks hence.

WESTERN PACIFIC TO GIVE SPECIAL ROUND TRIP RATES FOR HOOVER INAUGURATION

As Herbert Hoover is the first president of the United States to be elected from the Golden State, it is predicted that there will be an unprecedented attendance of Californians at the inaugural ceremonies to be held at the National Capitol in Washington, D. C., on March 4, 1929.

In anticipation of this event and to enable as many Californians as possible to witness the inauguration, The Western Pacific Railroad Company will put into effect special low round trip excursion fares which will be published from all points in California and Nevada to Baltimore, Md., Philadelphia, Pa., Ney York and Washington, D. C.

Tickets will be good going on February 25, 26, 27, 1929 and will bear a final return limit of March 27, 1929. Choice of routes may be obained on either going or return trips and stopover will be allowed at any points with in the final return limit of the ticket.

GEORGE GLADSTONE JOINS RANKS OF MARRIED MEN

George Gladstone, a former resident of Menlo Park, and Augustine Molles, a French Designer of San Francisco were married in St. Paul's Cathedral, San Francisco, on December 15th.

Gladstone is well known along the peninsula where he was for a long time engaged in the electrical business, being connected with the Safety Electric works.

The many friends of the happy couple join in wishing them all the happiness there is in life.

Mrs. Harold Dewey underwent an operation at the Palo Alto hospital last week.

Editor's Note: As an added service to readers this paper has arranged with Mr. Brant to answer any questions regarding musical points where a subscriber desires advice. No charge will be made for such service, but when writing the conductor of the column a self-addressed envelope must be enclosed, and the name of this paper mentioned. Communications should be mailed to LeRoy V. Brant, director The Institute of Music, 97 South Sixth Street, San Jose, Calif.

CEMENT

A mixture of cement and music is herewith tendered the reader of today's article.

It is very easy to make impressions upon cement in its fluid state. After the cement sets it becomes increasingly difficul to mold.

It is very easy to make impressions upon the pliable mnds of children. As they grow older and become more fixed in their habits, it is increasingly dif ficult to give them lasting impressions.

We are told that the child learns more between the time of his birth and the age of 5 than he learns all the rest of his life ime. While that statement may be open to debate, it is, nevertheless, certain that th impressions received in childhood are the enduring ones.

All this leads to the question which is so often asked of a musician. "How old should my child be when I give him music lessons?" And jerhaps the answer might well be, "Hok old is your child when you start him to school?"

And let us wander a little further in this discussion and suggest that among other joys of the Christmas sea son, it might be well to give a thought to the joy of music for the rising generation.

W. J. FENTON INTERESTED IN ZONING OF CITY

W. J. Fenton of Oakland, and a reader of the Menlo Park Recorder, has sent in the following communication, which is published for the benefit of the readers of this paper:

To the Menlo Park Recorder,
City Planning Commission,
Menlo Park, San Mateo Co., Calif.

Honorable Sirs:

Will you please include Menlo ave nue from University Drive to the State Highway in your business zone, the same as you have includd Santa Cruz avenue, being both norh and south sides of the street.

I am he largest single land owner on Menlo avenue and prefer to have it zoned for business for the reason there are alrady duplex buildings, plumbers, plasterers, carpenters, etc., there and myself with other heirs of the Kate Johnson Estate, gave the City of Menlo Park all of Menlo avenue for a public street.

I personally, have paid for the street work on Evelyn street and Florence street, also gave the land for these streets from Menlo avenue to Live Oak street put in High Grade sewers, all at my own expense and free to the tax payers of Menlo Park.

Yours respectfully,
W. J. FENTON,
Owner Fenton Tract, Menlo Park.

MENLO PARK MASONS INSALL OFFICERS TONIGHT

The annual installation of officers of Menlo Park Lodge No. 651, F. & A. M., will be held in the Masonic hall in his city this evening at 7:30.

Elaborate preparations have been made for this impressive ceremony and a cordial invitation is extended to all Master Masons in this distric to be present on this occasion.

Officer Lawrence of Palo Alto was in Menlo Park yesterday on official business. He was assisted by a local deputy from the sheriff' office.

FOR SALE—Extra fine Rhode Island pullets and fryers, 7 months and younger. Phone, San Bruno 675.

W. L. Roper Gives Premiums

W. L. Roper, the enterprising proprietor of the Busy Bee Grocerteria on Friday night last awarded as premiums on grocery purchases a $33 basket of groceries to Mrs. Bert Mayfield; a bicycle to A. F. Williams and a beautiful bride doll to Mrs. Vida Cooper.

There has been a lot of speculation for some weeks as to who would be the lucky persons and wheen the final date arrived the streets for a block in each direction were packed with automobiles and it was an impossibility to get into the store.

Mr. and Mrs. Roper have made it a custom to give away a beautiful doll and other presents to their customers each year, and the large crowd was a testimony as to the popularity of the store.

Numbered in the large body of people in attendance were patrons from San Bruno on he North to San Jose on the South, and the Christmas spirit prevailed among all.

The Ropers wish all of their customers a happy and prosperous New Year.

REESER RE-ELECTED PRESIDENT OF CLUB

R. A. Reeser, civic worker and one of Lomita Park's best known residents was Monday night re-elected president of the Lomita Park Development association. The annual election of officers was held at the grammar school auditorium Other officals named were Robert Sakkem, vice president; and J. T. Gigon, treasurer. Mrs. Charlotte Rehbein was re-elected secretary.

Reports on a November-December mmbrship drive in charge of Frank B. Zannette, showed addition of more than a score of residents.

State traffic officers will be asked to patrol newly paved streets because speeding motorists have become a menace to school children and pedestrians. Club members were told it is now a practice of motorists to turn off the highway at Lomita aPrk and use new streets as a race track to the north end of San Bruno.

PENINSULA THEATRE

The thrill which talking pictures brought to a sophisticated audience at its debut in New York two years ago, will be understood by the people of this ditsrict when the Peninsula Theater in Burlingame introduces Vitaphone and Movietone on Sunday, December 30.

The great stars of the opera world, the legitimate theater and the screen are coming to speak and sing, for the first time locally, from the shadowy silences of the screen. Great artists like Martinelli and Talley of the Metropolitan Opera, will be seen and heard in renditions of the classical operas that have lived through centuries of time. World famous concert stars, of which Mischa Elman and Efrem Zimbalist are examples will play the instruments that have earned for them the fame of the entir civilized world.

One will marvel and thrill when they hear the crooning voice of Al Jolson and see his image as he sings his "Mammy" or "Sonny Boy." The unsurpassed delight of listening to the Barrymores, the Costellos, to May McAvoy, Gladys Brockwell, Robert Elliot and numerous others deliver spoken lines of a dramatic play will be the privilage of those attending the performances at the Peninsula.

The local police force and officers from San Francisco conducted a raid in Chinatown yesterday.

Mrs. Nelle G. Fletcher of the Menlo Specialty Shoppe is reported to be quite ill and has not been in her place of business for the past three or four days.

Piggly Wiggly Will Open Here Saturday

On Saturday morning, when the new Piggly Wiggly Store in Menlo Park opens its doors for business, Menlo Park and the peninsula in general will be benefitted by the addition of another progressive business house. The nw store, the thirty-ninth of a unit working out of San Francisco, is up-to-date in every particular. Housed as it is in a new concrete building and with its neat and very attractive fixtures and equipment there is no doubt of the success of the new venture.

There will be a first class meat market run in conjunction with the grocery department, and as is usual will all Piggly Wiggly stores the goods offered the public in all of the various departments and lines will be the best that money can buy. Fresh fruits and vegetables will be another feature of this stores.

H. G. Hayden of Menlo Park will be the manager of the new store and, with his wide experience in this line of business, residents of the peninsula need feel no fear as to the service and quality of goods at this latest Piggly Wiggly store.

The residents and merchants of Menlo Park all join in welcoming the new store to their midst, and it is pointed out by far sighted business men that Piggly Wiggly will bring a new era of prosperity to the city and this end of the county.

LOCAL POST OFFICE MAKES EXCEPTIONALLY FINE RECORD

Reports from the local post office indicate that this year's business was the largest in the history of the office, and it was all handled in a most efficient manner. It is said that no one had to wait until after Christmas for mail that arrived on time.

Postmaster Barney Larrecou stated that each days incoming and outgoing mail was cleared up before the postal employees left the office at night so that there would be no congestion and all would have their Christmas mail when it was due.

Postmaster Larrecou and his efficient corps of helpers deserve and should receive the thanks of the entire community for the manner in which they handled the situation.

FRANK BUCKLEY GIVEN NINETY DAY SENTENCE

Frank Buckley, a laborer 45 years of age, was given a sentence of 90 days in the county jaid yesterday by Judge Lawrence H. Cook of this city on a charge of drunkenness. Buckley was taken into custody on Wednesday by Officer Ed Feeley of Menlo Park.

M. & H. RESTAURANT REPORTS CHRISTMAS BUSINESS GOOD

V. Alexander of the M. & H. Restaurant reports that the Christmas Day business in his establishment was far in excess of his expectations.

The people of Menlo Park took advantage of an opportunity to get an excellent Christmas dinner at a very reaonable price.

M. E. KINGHTS OF HONOR

The Knights of Honr, a boys organization of the Community M. E. Church, initiated three new members last Saturday night, December 15th. They also planned a hike for a week after Christmas. The Knights of Honor have been growing rapidly lately and hope to be as successful the following year in membership and also in action.

The Shell Oil Company has just completed a very attractive sign on the building back of its big station on the corner of the highway and Santa Cruz avenue.

THE NEW YEAR

With the coming of the New Year, 1929, the prospects of the peninsula and of this community take on a very much brighter hue. With the coming of the Western Pacific Railroad into our midst, the completion of the fine new bay bridge at San Mateo and a general trend of business upward it would seem there is nothing to worry about except our ability to get our shoulders to the wheel and help things along as rapidly as we would like too.

The peninsula has never had a better business outlook than it has at the present time. New capital is being invested in various cities between San Francisco and San Jose, especially here in this city.

Some civic organization, already in existance, or one to be formed should bend its every effort toward the securing of locations for new businesses and the advertising of the fact that we want new business concerns to locate with us.

Let us start the new year right by forgetting all of our petty differances and jealousies and get together for our own good as well as the good of our city and community. It will not do to assign the task of getting the 1929 advancement to "George" for we are of the opinion that "George" is dead. Let's do it ourselves and start now! today!

THINK IT OVER, THEN LETS GO!

THE SPIDER AGAIN

The fellow who wants business and doesn't advertise is like the man who wants to marry the girl but doesn't tell her. The foregoing sounds like a joke, but nevertheless it's no joke when considered from the standpoint of business — we mean advertising. The following story is illustrative of what happens when you don't advertise.

When Mark Twain, in his early days was editor of a Missouri paper, a superstitious subscriber wrote to him saying that he had found a spider in his paper, and asking him whether that was a sign of good luck or bad. The humorist wrote him this answer and printed it:

"Old Subscriber: Finding a spider in your paper was neither good luck nor bad luck for you. The spider was merely looking over our paper to see which merchant is not advertising, so that he could go to that store, spin his web across the door and lead a life of undisturbed peace ever afterward."—Redwood City Standard.

If you want to succeed in business or keep abreast of the times support your home paper. Not the one from a neighboring city.

CHRISTMAS DINNER FOR "GUESTS OF SHERIFF 'JIM'"

Few perhaps of the thirty odd prisoners in the county jair in Redwood City were remembered by Santa Claus on Christmas day in the way of gifts, but Sheriff James J. McGrath saw to it that none were forgotten when it came to the Christmas dinner. Sheriff "Jim" had a sumptuous repast prepared for his "guests," consisting of roast pork with dressing and country gravy, mashed potatoes and green peas, pumpkin pie and lots of steaming coffee.

The rainfall of the past day or two has brought the rain fall to date up to normal and has done much for the country at large.

The local Southern Pacific agent reports that business is unusually brisk for this season of ther year.

Economy of The Month

HOUSEWIVES are constantly confronted with the problem of how to be economical and yet serve delicious dishes. One way, this fall, is to serve combinations of canned peaches which are inexpensive. They are tempting just as they come from the can, but here are a couple of recipes with which she can vary them.

Bully for Breakfast

Peach Toast: Beat one egg slightly, and add three-fourths cup milk, one teaspoon sugar and one-fourth teaspoon salt. Dip eight slices of bread in this mixture, and sauté a golden brown in butter. Dip eight peach halves in flour and sauté these also golden brown in the same skillet. Place one peach half on each slice of toast, and pour over it the following sauce:

Melt one tablespoon butter, add one tablespoon flour and stir smooth. Add one cup peach syrup slowly, stirring constantly until thick and smooth. Season with cinnamon, and pour over the peach toast. Serve hot. This would serve eight if each member of the family would be content with one slice of toast, but they won't.

Dainty for Dessert

Peach Meringues: Cut stale sponge cake in rounds with a cookie cutter. Slightly moisten each round with the juice of Maraschino cherries. Put half a canned peach, cut side up, on each piece of cake, and fill cavities with halved Maraschino cherries. Make a meringue, using three tablespoons confectioner's sugar to each egg white, and pile thickly over the peaches. Bake in a very slow oven until the meringue is done—300° for fifteen minutes

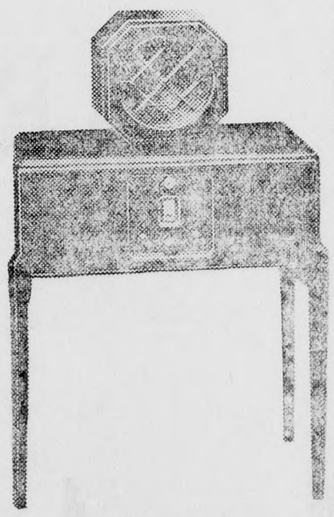
Modern In Design
And Construction



AN interesting and attractive new radio receiving set just offered the public is the product of the National Carbon Company, known to millions of radio fans as the maker of Eveready Batteries and sponsors of the "Eveready, Hour" broadcasting program.

The Eveready model pictured above is made of die-cast aluminum, a new material in receiving set construction. It carries the more modernistic motif of interior decoration. Much of the attractiveness of the new aluminum set comes from the fact that it takes a lacquer in a surprising and pleasing fashion. Its selection as material for one of the Eveready radio cabinets was decided upon not only because of its handsome and unusual appearance, but also because it was found well adapted for receiving purposes. It is established that sudden changes in temperature and atmospheric moisture do not affect the aluminum cabinet.

This newest type of radio receiver is accompanied by a loud speaker of the same material, made in a design to conform with the striking and handsome appearance of the set itself.
